

PRESIDENTS' GOOD STEWARD AWARD

Christine Williams Granite State College

In addition to being a vital member of Granite State College's senior management team focused on admissions operations, and a former Outstanding Women in Business Award recipient, Christine Williams has made exceptional contributions to the local community. In fact, she applies her leadership and cross-functional collaboration skills to support the important missions of several nonprofit organizations:

- She is a board member of Easterseals New Hampshire; an organization that focuses on helping children and adults with disabilities gain greater independence.
- She is an advisory board member of the historic Palace Theatre, which is the center of cultural activity in Manchester as the non-profit performing arts center.
- She is the vice chair and board member of Volunteer NH, which supports local and national service initiatives and provides training, recognition, and a central site for volunteers and volunteer programs to help strengthen local communities.
- As a Leadership Greater Manchester graduate, Chris continues to support the work of the Chamber through its Education and Workforce Development Committee.
- Finally, as a skilled volunteer with Community Emergency Response Team (CERT), she is trained to respond, along with EMS, to large-scale emergencies by providing offer immediate care for victims, organizing spontaneous volunteers at a disaster site, and collecting information to support first responder efforts.

Granite State College is proud to recognize Christine Williams as a valued colleague and an important contributor to this community.
